

Nachhaltigkeitspotenzial in Schwellenmärkten: Investitionen mit Wirkung

Gokce Bulut

Portfolio Manager im Global Emerging Markets und
Asia Equity Team, Leiter Responsible Global Emerging Markets Strategy

Wie geht es mit den Schwellenländern weiter und wie kann man mit Unternehmen in diesen Märkten zusammenarbeiten, um risikobereinigte Renditen und positive Ergebnisse zu erzielen?

Gokce Bulut is a portfolio manager in the Global Emerging Markets and Asia Equity team, leading the Responsible Global Emerging Markets strategy. He joined Columbia Threadneedle as part of the acquisition of BMO Global Asset Management, where he worked within the LGM subsidiary. He joined in 2017 initially as an analyst, focusing on frontier and emerging markets, and was promoted to portfolio manager in 2018, when he also joined the Investment Leadership team. Prior to LGM, Mr Bulut worked for FSSA Investment Managers in Hong Kong and Stewart Investors in Edinburgh. He started as a generalist with wide research and investment responsibilities across the Asia Pacific markets, emerging markets and global equities and progressed to running a successful internally funded GEM portfolio. He was appointed member on the Responsible Investment Committee of First State Investment from 2013 to 2016. Mr. Bulut received his undergraduate degree in Business Administration and Economics from Copenhagen Business School and post graduate degree in Finance and Investment from University of Durham.
